The Cosmic Bouncer is an adrenaline-packed game where you control a sphere as it navigates through challenging space obstacle courses. Your goal is to compete with players worldwide by conquering multiple levels, each filled with unique hurdles crafted from celestial rocks that move in sync with the universe's rhythm. To succeed, you must utilize your skills and reflexes to expertly dodge or jump over these space debris, propelling your sphere toward the finish line. As you progress through the game, you'll encounter a diverse array of obstacles at each level, requiring precise timing and control to overcome them successfully. Your journey ends when you reach the final destination or fall out of bounds. The time taken to complete each level is used to calculate your score, with players ranked based on their performance across levels. Get ready for a thrilling adventure in space with Roller Baller! This addictive running game takes you on a challenging journey through corridors, tunnels, and time gaps. Your goal is to overcome obstacles and traps while collecting power-ups like fireball, armor, super speed, protection, and more. The controls are easy and intuitive - use the arrow keys to move and the space bar to jump. As you navigate through levels, focus on quick reactions to make split-second decisions.
